

In november of 2002, I signed up to have sprint charge me 7 cents per minute for my long distance call. My son got a playstation game that played on line. It dialed a long distance number. Sprint charged me 10cents per minute for all the calls it made. I called them and was told that I would not receive a credit to make the calls 7 cents a minute. This is false and misleading advertisement. It says right on my phone bill $5.95 for Sprint 7 cents anytime minutes. I feel that I've been cheated and wish to report this incedent.